

Presentation for Research Purposes

The students of TYBA presented Research proposals on various topics related to psychology. These presentations were held from 5th – 7th August, 2019. There were a total number of 22 students who participated. Their areas of interest were depression, gender, self-esteem etc. and presented topics such as Relation between Depression, Gender and Cancer, Self-esteem of Children from Broken Families, Attachment Styles and Eating Disorders, Sleep Deprivation and Academic Performance, Parental Style and Relation of it on Criminal Behaviour of a Child and many more.

The students presented a detailed proposal which consisted of the literature review; the students gave a positive review about the presentation. As many of them were presenting for the first time, their stage fear had reduced and they had built confidence. All the research topics were unique in their own ways and so it was an informative and a learning experience for all.
